This photograph has been given to the Moseley Society History Group by a member of the Moseley Society. It shows Major J.K. Brodie of 29 School Road, Moseley presenting the Queen with a brooch of the Queen's Own Warwickshire Hussars in 1957.

Major Brodie was given the honour of presenting this gift to the Queen as the oldest officer of the regiment. He served continuously for 37 years. He was badly wounded during World War I and a prisoner of the Japanese during World War II.
