An exciting find: Bronwen Fisher's camera

A camera belonging to Bronwen Fisher, daughter of Howard and Amy Kate Fisher of Wintersloe School, 17 Wake Green Road (next door to Sorrento Court) which opened in 1896, has been located in New York. Lenny Hall, a photographer and collector of 19th century photos and cameras, found the camera – an old kodak – with a label stating 'Bronwen Fisher, Wintersloe, Moseley'. Having seen our article on Wintersloe on our website he contacted the Moseley Society History Group about the camera and sent us these photographs. The Fisher family have no memory of Bron going to the states.
